

ALEXANDRIA BAR MUCH STIRRED UP

Doesn't Like Governor's Appointing Man Before They Could Make Recommendation.

HURT HIM POLITICALLY

Friends of Mr. Johnson Said to Be Waving "Big Stick." Governor Won't Talk.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ALEXANDRIA, VA., March 13.—Somewhat of a hornet's nest has been stirred over the designation of Judge Louis C. Bailey, judge of the Corporation Court of this city, as judge of the Circuit Courts for this district, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Charles E. Nicol, who recently resigned from the judgeship to enter the congressional fight.

The whole discussion is brought about because Governor Swanson appointed Judge Bailey, before the members of the local bar had an opportunity to present the claims of their candidate, Attorney John M. Johnson. Several members of the bar assert that the Governor was not justified in that the members intended to present Mr. Johnson's claims for the position, but before they had an opportunity of so doing Governor Swanson named Judge Bailey. The election will not occur until the second Wednesday of January, 1908, when the State Legislature meets.

Endorses Johnson Anyway.

Notwithstanding the fact that Governor Swanson has appointed Judge Bailey to fill Judge Nicol's place pending an election by the Legislature, the members of the local bar held a meeting this morning at which time Attorney Johnson was endorsed for the position. It is stated that in a mammoth petition, bearing the signatures of over 700 representative citizens, the majority of the names of members of the local bar are attached hereto. It is also said that Mr. Johnson has the endorsement of the members of the bar throughout the entire county, with the exception of Fairfax county, and that county, it is understood, desires the appointment of Judge Cove. Mr. Johnson's petition will be sent to Governor Swanson at once.

The question now arises will Governor Swanson rescind his order and appoint Attorney Johnson? If he does not, the friends of Mr. Johnson assert that it will hurt him politically. Friends of Mr. Johnson assert that the Governor acted a little too hastily in the matter, and that the Governor should have given the members of the local bar an opportunity of presenting Mr. Johnson's claims for the office.

The whole matter has been the cause of considerable comment on both sides, and many assert that the question will figure to some extent in the congressional contest which is now on.

Governor Swanson, seen here to-night, declined to discuss the matter at all.

Railroad Building in Lee.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] KEOKEE, LEE COUNTY, VA., March 13.—The new Black Mountain Railroad is pushing the grading on the line.

The Keokee Coal and Coke Company here is pushing the house building job as fast as it possibly can. Other work is advancing fine. The company's policy is keeping good order and quiet in the new mining town here.

March has entered mild and calm. The schedule change in the star mail route here, No. 39579, is working in regular order.

The Keokee Coal and Coke Company's spur branch line of railway is let to contract, and the work is to be commenced this week. Johnston & Gommert Bros. are the main contractors and Adolph Gommert is the subcontractor.

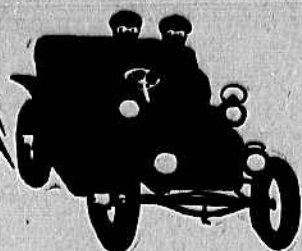

DE HART PLANT GOES.

Judge Harvey Refuses to Grant License to Distillery.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FLOYD, VA., March 13.—Judge E. J. Harvey, after a trial which lasted some ten days, at Stuart, Patrick county, Va., refused the application of F. DeHart & Co. for license to run a whiskey distillery at Hartwell, a short distance from the Floyd county line.

DeHart & Co. had, at a great expense, erected a large plant for the manufacture of whiskey, which has been estimated to have cost $10,000, with rectifying attached, and capable of turning out seventy or eighty gallons per day. They shipped this whiskey to all parts of the United States, and it was kept in constant operation to supply the demands. They furnished employment for a large number of hands daily, and there is no doubt that the people in the mountainous section around it were benefited by it, not only for their labor, but a market for their corn, for which they obtained the best prices.

It was proven on trial by witnesses of Good standing that the distillery was a great help financially to the people, and even morally, on account of doing away with the moonshine business, which prevailed in that section and the section of the county adjoining.

It was also shown in the trial that that portion of Patrick and the county adjoining had been, before the distillery was erected, the home of the moonshiners, stills abounding in every direction, and that the practice had virtually ceased since the erection of the DeHart plant.

Both sides were represented by able counsel, the anti-license people by John W. Carter, of Martinsville, and S. A. Thompson, of Stuart; while for Gravelly & Gravelly, of Martinsville, B. G. Howland, of Floyd and Edgar Woolwine, of Stuart.

REBUILD ANNEX.

Portion of Hotel Warwick Destroyed Will Soon Be Replaced.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NEWPORT NEWS, VA., March 13.—The Warwick Hotel Annex, which was partially destroyed by fire last night, will be rebuilt at once.

The fire was still smoldering this morning, and the firemen had to keep a close watch all night to prevent it from breaking out anew. The Salvation Army people, whose barracks on Twenty-third Street were destroyed by the blaze, saved only their corps books, a cornet and a bass drum.

Hank Smith, a driver in the Central fire engine company, was arrested for a brutal assault made upon M. J. West, dockmaster for the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, during the fire last night. The fireman is being held on the charge of felonious assault.

Because Mr. West suggested that a stream of water be thrown upon a building adjoining the burning Salvation Army barracks, the fireman is said to have struck him in the face with a heavy nozzle, inflicting a dangerous wound.

ERECTING GREAT PIER.

Work Begins on Deep-Water Terminal of Tidewater Company.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NORFOLK, VA., March 13.—The construction of the first of the great piers which the Tidewater Terminal Railway Company will build at Sewell's Point for the Virginian Railway Company, until recently known as the Tidewater-Deepwater Railway Company, was commenced to-day.

William Taylor, manager at Norfolk for the Sanford & Ericks Company, went down to the scene this morning to map out the work which his company will do in the way of driving piles incidental to the undertaking, and later Joseph M. Clark's tug Mutual towed down from Norfolk the pile-driver which will be used.

The contract for dredging and erecting necessary bulkheads was awarded recently to the P. Sanford Ross Company, of Jersey City, N. J., and the contract for building the substructure upon which the great pier will stand was awarded to the McLean Construction Company, of Baltimore. This work will cost approximately $500,000 and the superstructure $1,500,000.

FIRE A MYSTERY.

Carriage-House and Farming Implements Are Destroyed.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] SHEPPARD'S VA., March 13.—Early this morning Mr. M. C. Elean lost by fire his carriage-house, which was also his storage-house, and with all his farming implements, vehicles, harness, saddles and a number of other things. His loss will amount to about $1,200. The fire was a complete mystery. No insurance was carried.

WARM CONTEST FOR ASSISTANT

Mr. Carney, New Postmaster, Embarrassed by Riches of Candidates for Position.

MARTIN AND SPAULDING

These Wealthy Men on Carney's Bond for $130,000—Presbyterian Building Contract.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NORFOLK, VA., March 13.—The contest for the assistant postmaster of Norfolk is warmer even than was the contest for postmaster, although no charges have yet been filed against any of the aspirants for the office of assistant. The higher political powers have been drawn into the fight, and Mr. Stephen B. Carney, who will soon assume the duties of postmaster, is forced to hear much argument from those who would influence the appointment. The position pays $1,800 a year.

There are a half dozen or perhaps a half score of candidates for the office. Among the more prominently mentioned for it are Adolph Aronheim, son of the Republican city chairman; J. A. C. Groner, who was one of the receivers of the Bay Shore Terminal Company; Armstrong Eorland, real estate and investment agent, and Major Tarrall.

Mr. Carney stated this morning that he could not yet say who will be his assistant. He does not fear lack of material from which to make his selection. He probably will not announce his selection until after he assumes charge of the post-office, perhaps on Saturday. His bond for $130,000, with Alvah H. Martin and Judge Edward Spaulding as sureties, has been sent to Washington. There can be no doubt as to its acceptance by the Post-Office Department, and should it be approved in time Mr. Carney will take charge of the post-office Saturday, the day after the first monthly settlement of the postmaster with the Post-Office Department.

Presbyterian Building.

Bids for the construction of the Presbyterian building at the Jamestown Exposition were opened this afternoon in the office of Ferguson & Carlow, Norfolk. Half a dozen bids were received, and the contract for the building will be awarded as soon as the bids have been carefully examined and the most favorable one accepted. The building will cost about $10,000.

Rev. E. T. Wellford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of Newport News, and the official head of the movement in charge of the Presbyterian building at the exposition, the Rev. Alexander and Clerk H. P. Hutchison, of Boynton, to prepare a handbook of the county of Mecklenburg for distribution, but as no provisions were made for expenses incident to publication nothing has been done. The proximity of the county to the exposition, the agricultural, mineral, forestal, manufacturing and commercial advantages awaiting development should not be concealed, many declare, when such an opportunity to bring them to view will never again occur, during the life of the present generation.

PLUNGES INTO CREEK.

Mayor of Urbanna by Presence of Mind Saves Boats.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] URBANNA, VA., March 13.—While the cannery factory plant owned by Mr. Byron Waggener, of this town, was burning Sunday night the Mayor of Urbanna, Key Howard, plunged in Urbanna Creek and cut adrift the boats which were moored near the burning building, saving them from probable destruction, which would have been a considerable loss to their owners. It was a heroic deed, and reflects greatly on the Mayor.

Owing to feeble health, the Rev. R. C. Collier, the pastor of the Episcopal Church here, has again left his field of labor for rest and recuperation, and went down to the scene this morning to map out the work which his company will do in the way of driving piles incidental to the undertaking, and later Joseph M. Clark's tug Mutual towed down from Norfolk the pile-driver which will be used.

Prefer the same beer—that is true. They are guided by taste; and tastes differ, as beers do.

But taste can be cultivated. And absolute purity is much more important.

Judged by likes, the few best beers may not differ enough to matter.

Judged by purity, there is a vast difference in beers. And purity means healthfulness, cleanliness, freedom from germs. It means a beer that cannot cause biliousness.
